

WGS Summer Outreach

This Summer, Pierre Couture led some hands-on rock exploration events discussing and examining Wisconsin Rocks.

New Holstein (June 26)

We talked about different types of rocks, what you can find in Wisconsin, and opened it up to general geology and rock questions. The kids were really engaged and enjoyed examining the hand specimens.

Fox Point (July 18)

The kids made observations about the different kinds of rocks and asked questions about rocks and dinosaurs. Some even had some specimens to look at as well.

Thank you to all the libraries and young explorers who made these events a success!
